General Assembly Studied

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas General Assembly is out of session now and therefore out of the glare of public exposure, but it is still under scrutiny.

The Eagleton Institute of Politics of Rutgers University has been commissioned to study ways the assembly can be improved and strengthened.

Ralph Craft, a 29-year-old doctoral student in political science at Rutgers, has been on the job at the Capitol for almost two weeks, working in a third-floor office down the hall from the House chamber.

He will coordinate the project under the direction of Dr. Alan Rosenthal, Rutgers professor of political science and director of the Center for the Study of State Legislatures at the Eagleton Institute.

The 17-member Committee on Legislative Organization, created by the 1971 legislature and granted a budget of $40,000, will supervise the project. The committee, composed of eight legislators and nine members of the public, has signed a $29,500 contract with Eagleton for the study.

The General Assembly was ranked 46th among the state legislatures in a survey conducted by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures that took into account factors other than quality of legislation, but the idea for the Arkansas study was begun before the results of the survey were published.

Rep. Calvin R. Ledbetter Jr. of Little Rock and Sen. John Bearden of Leachville were prime movers behind legislation authorizing the Arkansas study and both serve on the Legislative Organization committee. Ledbetter is the chairman.

Ledbetter expects Eagleton to make its recommendations by next June or July and the committee will choose what it likes from them and report to the 1973 legislature.

Ledbetter said he thought the General Assembly would be receptive to the committee's report.

"Things that encouraged me were that this study was authorized and that the $40,000 was appropriated without too much static," he said.

Craft will inquire into a raft of legislative details, including such things as committee structure, bill procedures, staffing and salaries.

He said in an interview that Eagleton would seek to make "feasible" recommendations for strengthening the legislature.

"Eagleton is not interested in turning out academic tomes that are filed away and forgotten," he said. "The orientation of Eagleton is to get something accomplished in the real world."

"That does not mean we will make recommendations that everyone agrees with," he said. "We will probably make some controversial recommendations. But the goals will be feasible."

Craft said Eagleton's reports generally concentrated on areas the legislators themselves felt should be improved. Each member of the General Assembly has been sent a long questionnaire covering a wide range of matters and Craft plans to talk with many of the lawmakers individually.

He also plans to question many persons outside the legislature for their views on problem areas of the General Assembly. Included will be non-legislative government officials, lobbyists and members of the news media, Craft said.

$50,000 Benefits for Dead Cops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., said Thursday that bills pending before Congress that would provide $50,000 in death benefits to families of policemen killed in the line of duty should be expanded to include firemen.

Alexander is cosponsor of a bill pending in the House that would amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to pay survivors of police officers killed while on duty.

Big Bombers Destroy a Supply Base

TAY NINH, Vietnam (AP) — American warplanes destroyed a vital North Vietnamese supply base near the Cambodian border and killed more than 100 enemy soldiers in two days of air strikes, allied commanders said today.

The base, 3½ miles east of the U.S. artillery fire base Pace on the border, was a key supply point for a six-day-old North Vietnamese offensive in the frontier region, field officers said.

An American officer at Tay Ninh said the depot was so spread out that tactical bombers could not cover it despite repeated attacks Thursday. Consequently, big B52 bombers were sent in today to smother the area with hundreds of tons of explosives.

Reports from aerial observers indicated at least 30 stacks of rocket and mortar ammunition and large quantities of food supplies were destroyed.

"Our first reports said there were bodies all over the place, more than 100 bodies," said a senior U.S. officer.

Two U.S. helicopters were shot down Thursday while bringing South Vietnamese troop reinforcements to an area west of besieged Fire Base Tran Hung Dao in northern Tay Ninh Province. There were no casualties and the helicopter crews were rescued.

In another development, two South Vietnamese relief columns clashed with as many as 800 North Vietnamese troops in heavy fighting today along the South Vietnam-Cambodia border.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Xuan Thinh, commander of the South Vietnamese forces, reported the fighting near two embattled frontier fire bases—Tran Hung Dao on Highway 22, about 70 miles northwest of Saigon and 20 miles north of Tay Ninh, and Alpha, three miles east of the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Krok, just beyond the border. Both had been reported surrounded.

Officers in the field said 2,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers had reached Tran Hung Dao on Thursday night and early today fanned out on a sweeping operation.

American Woman Is Expert At Double Talk; But Man Is No Slouch

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — There is no doubt that the American woman is expert at double talk—that is, the saying of one thing while thinking another.

But the American male is certainly no slouch at this popular conversational sport either. When it comes to verbal hypocrisy, there isn't really much difference between man and woman.

Here, for instance, are a few common examples of masculine double talk. In each case what the male said is in quotes. It is followed by what he was actually thinking at the time.

"Hi there, sweet stuff!"—She makes every night seem like Halloween.

"Of course, most of the company's drop in net income is simply due to extraordinary and nonrecurring expenses."—We made so many boobies we lost our shirt.

"I remember clearly telling you this morning that I wouldn't be able to make the 6:14 train and would have to take a later one."—If a couple of the boys hadn't stayed with me, I wouldn't even have been poured on the 8:39 train.

"No, thanks, Dad. I don't think I'll be needing the car tonight."—I burned out the brakes last night, and don't want to drive it until you get them fixed.

"We draw your attention to the fact that your account remains unpaid now for the third straight month. Undoubtedly it is due to an oversight. How-

Ginger Is Expected to Die Inland

By MELVIN LANG
Associated Press Writer
MOREHEAD CITY, N.C.

(AP) — Ginger, the one-time hurricane which caused damage estimated at nearly $1 million with its flooding and 90-mile-per-hour winds, headed inland today after battering the central North Carolina coast.

In her wake she left flooding caused by nine inches of rain and tides five feet above normal along a 70-mile stretch of shoreline.

Downgraded to a tropical storm shortly before midnight but still packing 45 to 50 m.p.h. winds, Ginger moved to the south a few miles early today and then slipped off on a northwesterly course.

At 6 a.m. EDT she was about 60 miles southeast of Raleigh aiming for the Appalachian Mountains of northern North Carolina and western Virginia. She was expected to dump up to five more inches of rain.

Little Rock Crimes Decrease

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock showed a decrease in the rate of violent crime during the first six months of this year, according to FBI figures made public Thursday by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Little Rock was one of 53 cities of more than 100,000 population to show a decline.

While violent crime increased 7 per cent nationally, Little Rock's rate dropped nearly 12 per cent as compared to the first six months of 1970.

Warm Weather Predicted for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably warm weather is expected to continue in Arkansas for the next few days.

Temperatures were expected to reach the 90-degree mark today for the seventh straight day and little change in temperature is expected through Sunday.

The possibility of showers is expected to increase in the western portion of the state Sunday with slightly cooler temperatures early in the week.

A winter storm is now moving through the Rockies but it is impossible to determine if the storm will reach as far south as Arkansas.

Lows tonight should be mostly in the 60s.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 60, Harrison 60, Jonesboro 64, Pine Bluff 65, Texarkana 70, El Dorado 61, Memphis 67, Little Rock 61 and Fort Smith 62.

No rainfall was reported in the state during the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. today.

Over 2,000 FFA Members Attend Show

FFA Day at the Third District Livestock Show in Hope, Monday, September 27, attracted over two-thousand FFA members from thirty FFA Chapters in Southwest Arkansas.

The day was declared a tremendous success by Marion Fletcher, Assistant Supervisor of Agricultural Education, State Department of Education in Little Rock. Mr. Fletcher further stated that this one-day activity involved more FFA members in organized competition than any similar activity in recent years.

The day included sixteen technical skill contests in forestry, livestock and mechanics. It also included thirteen events in the FFA Jamboree held in the coliseum Monday night.

Sweepstakes winners in the events were: First Place - Nashville; Second place - Hope; Third Place - Stamps; Fourth Place - Oak Grove; and Fifth Place - Deight. Other strong contenders were Okolona, Waldo, Lake Hamilton, and Gillham.

Board Meets on Financing New Industry

A special meeting of the City Board of Directors, at 1 p.m. today, has been announced by Garland Medders.

The meeting has been called for an election on Nov. 9th on a 1.5 million industrial bond issue to finance a new industry, Tennessee Forge and Steel Company, who are planning a steel fabricating plant located on forty acres of land near the airport.

This is planned to be included on this industrial bond issue on the election already scheduled for Nov. 9 on the 3.6 million industrial bond issue to finance rebuilding and expansion of the Partical Board Plant at Oakhaven, formerly operated by Plaswood Corporation.

Hope has been negotiating with the Tennessee Forge and Steel Company for several weeks and they have decided to locate in Hope, at a time when the election, whereas two industrial programs could be voted on at the same time.

The new plant will fabricate steel roof trusses and other fabricated building components.

Nation Tied Up By Dock Workers

By TOM KELLY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dock workers from Maine to Texas

struck today, facing the government with the first complete shutdown of every deep sea port in the continental United States.

Last-ditch talks to settle a guaranteed income dispute between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association broke up hours after a midnight contract expiration.

With the other ILA locals pledged to follow New York's lead, all 45,000 members at East and Gulf ports were out. West Coast ports have been struck since July 1 by the Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

"We offered to continue working under the President's wage-price freeze but this was turned down by the shippers, so you can say we're being locked-out or on strike," said ILA President Thomas W. Gleason.

President Nixon said earlier this week that he would automatically apply for an 80-day cooling-off period under the Taft-Hartley Act if both East and West Coast ports were shut down.

Ast. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery Jr. and Federal Maritime Administrator Andrew F. Gibson sat in on the final marathon negotiating session in an effort to head off the walkout. Both Usery and Gibson declined comment.

The chief shipping association representative, James Dickman, also declined to talk to newsmen as he left the U.S. Labor Department offices in the Federal Office Building about 3 a.m.

Gleason said another negotiating session had been set for Monday at 10 a.m. He said management then would present a list of the abuses that it charges have occurred under the guaranteed annual income—GAI—plan.

The shippers proposed a new GAI plan Thursday calling for the union members to be employees of specific firms and under their direct supervision.

Under the present, long-established hiring procedure, shippers draw their quota of longshoremen for a day's work from a labor pool at a hiring hall—the so-called waterfront shapeup.

Boundaries Set for ASC Committee Elections, Nominations Invited

Ralph Montgomery, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has designated the boundaries of each community within the county where elections of ASC community committees will be held. All known eligible voters are being notified of the boundaries of the various communities where elections will be held. A listing of boundaries is also available at the ASC county office at Hope, Arkansas.

Local candidates will be nominated by petitions submitted by farmers. This provides the opportunity for individual farmers to have first choice in nominating candidates for ASC community committees. The incumbent community committee can submit names of candidates only if fewer than six have been nominated by petition.

If eight percent or more of the eligible voters are minority group members and none has been nominated by petition, at least one of the candidates added to the slate by the incumbent committee shall be a minority group member.

A farmer who is an owner, tenant, or sharecropper is eligible to sign a nominating petition and to vote for ASC community committeemen. Any three eligible voters may nominate an eligible farmer, and may nominate more than one; however, each petition must be limited to one nominee.

The petition must include a certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected. A voter may sign as many petitions as he wishes. The nominating petition must contain at least three signatures and be submitted from October 4 through October 27.

The election will be by mail and a ballot will be mailed to all known eligible voters not later than November 19, 1971. Also, posters containing election dates will be displayed at various public locations throughout the county. In case an eligible voter fails to receive a ballot through the mail, he may obtain one at the county ASCS office at Hope, Arkansas.

Election day (last day to return voted ballots) will be December 1. To reduce the number of ties, voters will be instructed to vote for three or fewer candidates.

Community committeemen select county ASC committeemen at a county convention. The convention will be held December 10, 1971. New

Seating Two Chinas Is Big Task

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers plunged into a series of meetings with foreign leaders amid official U.S. optimism about seating both Chinas in the United Nations and other major issues.

As Rogers today launched a week's visit to the U.N. General Assembly opening during which he expects separate talks with some 70 foreign ministers, U.S. officials told newsmen: —Despite some predictions to the contrary, chances for victory of the U.S. move to seat both Communist China and Taiwan in the United Nations are improving.

—Prospects are good for a U.S.-Soviet missile curb agreement, though it may not come by the end of the year.

—The U.S. diplomatic initiative for Israeli-Egyptian accord is very much alive. And if an interim Suez agreement is reached, the United States would like U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring to play an active role in seeking an over-all Middle East settlement.

—The Soviets are interested both in their proposed European security conference and in talks about mutual force cuts in Europe, a negotiation preferred by the Western allies.

And both Moscow and Washington want the West and East Germans to agree as soon as possible on procedures to carry out the new Big Four agreement on Berlin.

Fogel has met three times over the past week with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, winding up with a two-hour luncheon session at the Soviet Embassy in Washington Thursday.

The two signed agreements to modernize the Washington-Moscow hot line by linking it through communications satellite systems, and to cut the risk of accidental nuclear war by prompt notification in case of nuclear accident.

The pair of accords stemmed from side discussions at the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—and Rogers and Gromyko acknowledged the main SALT aim, to restrain the superpower arms race, is yet to be achieved.

Hot Weather for TCU Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Partly cloudy skies and rather warm temperatures are forecast for Saturday's Southwest Conference football game between Arkansas and TCU.

Temperatures should be in the mid 80s for the 2 p.m. kickoff. Winds will be southwesterly at 10 to 18 miles per hour. No rainfall is expected.

Russian Ship Fires on U.S. Navy Patrol

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says that Russian naval fire directed at a U.S. Navy patrol plane over the Sea of Japan was not considered hostile.

The Pentagon reported that a P-3 reconnaissance aircraft was fired on Thursday, but said the commander of the 7th Fleet patrol force reported "the firings were not considered by him to be hostile and that the plane was not endangered."

The plane was over international waters approximately in the middle of the Sea of Japan when the incident occurred, the announcement said.

"Some of the aircraft crew members observed a flare and several tracer rounds all fired well ahead of the aircraft from a Soviet cruiser," the Pentagon said.

OEO Passes Big Test Smiling

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal antipoverty agency has emerged from congressional tests with a hefty budget and a greatly expanded role in child development despite administration intentions to confine it to research.

The House Thursday extended the Office of Economic Opportunity for another two years and added a massive development program keyed to day-care centers for children of working mothers.

The Economic Opportunity Act, along with $4.9 billion for two years of operation of existing programs, was passed 251 to 115 after tight votes on expansion. It represented a 6.7-percent increase over President Nixon's OEO budget.

The day-care program, which moves beyond babysitting into educational and health services, was approved 136 to 100 after eligibility for free care was trimmed at the urging of House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan.

While the program carried no price tag, Ford quoted a $20-billion estimate by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot Richardson for the original $5.690 income level. The House reduced the free income level for free care to $4,320. There was no estimate of cost at the lower level.

The Senate has passed a slightly different version and a compromise will have to be worked out.

In a letter read to the House by Ford, Richardson maintained passage of the program without funds to support it would lead to "a tragically unfulfilled promise to the American people of the kind that has already undermined their confidence in government."

And Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., saw dangers of creating "a child of the state."

Not so, countered Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., saying the bill is aimed at helping children whose parents "don't give a damn about them."

The program, an expansion of the successful Head Start for preschool children, was widened to allow choice of 10,000 population "more to sponsor the center" rather than the 100,000 originally in the bill.

The day-care program, unlike Head Start, will be open to children from families of all income levels, with low-income families given priority.

The House also voted to create an independent public-service corporation to run the legal services program for the poor.

More than 27,000 gallons of water are needed to irrigate an acre of land to the depth of one inch.

Red China Is Courting the British

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — While the British are booting out the Russians, the Red Chinese are pulling in the British. It's open house at the Chinese legation and the men in Mao-style tunics are clearly enjoying a propaganda success.

Just why they did it remains a Chinese puzzle. But anyone may now walk into the once-barricaded legation and grab himself a soft drink and a free cigarette.

The cigarette is Chinese—filter tipped, Virginia-style tobacco, and the product of the former British-American Tobacco Co. factory in Shanghai.

Between sips and puffs the British visitor is invited by smiling Chinese diplomats to walk round an exhibition entitled "Photo Exhibition on China's Achievements in Socialist Construction."

It is a series of photographs interspersed with texts to the effect that Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung is an excellent thinker and the Chinese people are industrious.

The new experience of a free excursion in what is technically Chinese territory brought a steady stream of visitors Thursday night, despite the total absence of any advance publicity.

The visitor to the Chinese legation gets only good news. Turn left through the door of the ground floor reception room and the first picture, in color, is of Chairman Mao. Next, somewhat smaller, is a double portrait: "Chairman Mao and his close comrade in arms Lin Biao."

Liu, once rated No. 2 in China's Communist hierarchy, does not rate a picture. Nor, more surprisingly, does Premier Chou En-lai, to whose influence some China experts have attributed Peking's current campaign to win world affection.

Acupuncture, the Chinese medical system by which nerve centers are penetrated by hair-thin needles, gets rave treatment.

The exhibit claims cures for deaf-mute children, and the achievement of anesthesia effective enough to permit major abdominal surgery.

On the way out is the comments book.

The comments ran three to one in favor of this Chinese enterprise. The tieup at the drink table brought the bitterest complaint: "Your exhibition lacks only a bottle opener."

White Leads Ark. Shoats to Victory

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Fullback Marsh White scored three touchdowns to pace the Arkansas Shoats to a 28-0 victory Thursday night over SMU in a Southwest Conference freshman football game.

White scored on runs of three, four and 10 yards to help the Shoats get 257 yards on the ground.

With Arkansas leading 7-0 late in the third quarter, the Shoats stopped a 71-yard SMU drive inches short of the two-yard line then struck for 21 fourth quarter points to win.

The other Arkansas touchdown came on an eight-yard pass from quarterback John Booty to Matt Morrison.

Booty was a former classmate of Razorback quarterback Joe Ferguson at Shreveport, La.

and do not accept the results of the election," Ky urged the 200 applauding delegates to the People's Congress, an informal coalition of anti-Thieu political and religious factions.

Ky was accompanied by some 40 to 50 air force security guards—his personal contingent—in 10 Jeeps and two trucks bristling with guns. He was wildly applauded on arrival and several times during his speech.

Throughout the rally, speakers assailed Thieu as a "dictator" and joined Ky in urging a voter boycott of the election.

The rally at a government guest house used by Ky as his political headquarters, appeared to be the last pre-election effort of the organized, nonviolent resistance to Thieu's one-man rule.

Hot Springs to Host Witnesses

The Hope Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has begun making plans to attend their forthcoming circuit assembly to be held October 22-24, in Hot Springs, according to Eugene Shuster, presiding minister of the local congregation.

The three-day meeting, which is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, will draw over 800 delegates from all of Southwest Arkansas. The Watchtower Society will also be sending the principal speaker for the assembly.

Highpoint of the convention will be Sunday at 2:00 p.m., October 24, when the talk entitled, "Can You Live Forever?—Will You?", will be given. The convention is open to the public.

The convention program will feature Bible lectures and demonstrations to show how the Bible directly influences the lives of Jehovah's Witnesses today. The local congregation is busy in arranging for all to be present for this very important event in their Christian training.

Nigeria Rebuilding After War

By LARRY HEINZERLING
Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — This most populous nation in black Africa, plagued by chronic ills yet hopeful of the future, celebrates 11 years of independence today.

While serious problems remain, even critics agree that Maj. Gen. Yakubu "Jack" Gowon has brought Nigeria a long way since the Biafran civil war ended 20 months ago.

He has cultivated national unity in the face of lingering hostility between the Ibo of what was once secessionist Biafra and the residents of the rest of Nigeria.

"It's absolutely fantastic how the hatchet has been buried," said one diplomat. "You have to give Gen. Gowon full marks. The psychological spirit of reconciliation has gone very well indeed."

So has reconstruction and rehabilitation in war-ravaged Eastern Nigeria, where schools, hospitals and hotels are going up. Foreign relief agencies that arrived during the fighting are pulling out, declaring they are no longer needed.

Gowon has also sought to make this nation of 60 million a leading spokesman for black Africa.

But critics of the 36-year-old head of state wonder whether he can postpone much longer forceful action against severe problems that remain.

Even Gowon's backers point to the unchecked inflation, widespread corruption, chronic unemployment, housing shortages in the urban centers and rampant crime, which has led to controversial mass public executions of convicted armed robbers.

Others worry about the seemingly uncontrolled spending of an idle 240,000-man army, the largest in black Africa.

The economy's biggest plus is the daily production of 15 million barrels of oil which brings in an estimated $500 million a year.

Two Arrested in Spa Bank Robbery

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A spokesman for the FBI said that federal charges of bank robbery would be filed today against two Hot Springs men in connection with the robbery Thursday of the West Side branch of the Arkansas First National Bank here.

The manager of the branch was held hostage for a short time before being released unharmed.

Police arrested the two suspects in a fishing boat on Lake Hamilton about three hours after the robbery. Officers said $12,376 taken in the holdup had not been recovered.

Leonard Brazil, the manager, said he was forced by the man who robbed the bank to accompany him to the lake.

Brazil told police that he received a telephone call saying that someone was in the bank and close enough to kill him if he did not go along with the robbery.

"I hung up the phone, turned around where he stood — he just had robbery written all over him," Brazil said. "He had what appeared to be a .38-caliber silver-plated Smith and Wesson pointed at me and told me to fill up a bag with money."

Brazil said he was forced to accompany the robber after the bag was filled with money.

"He took the keys to my car and we started out highway 270 toward Lake Hamilton," Brazil said. "We were going 80 miles an hour around those curves and he never said a word. He was driving with one hand and had the gun in the other. I told him once that I wish he would take that thing off of me because the way he was driving it could go off."

Brazil said when they got to the lake, the robber told him to drive back to town.

"The last thing I saw was when I looked up in the rear-view mirror and saw him standing in the road with that sack of money in his hand," Brazil said.

GINGER IS (From Page One)

Washington, N.C., to the beaches near Morehead City was widespread. One death possibly caused by the storm was reported.

A spokesman for the Insurance Information Institute in Atlanta, Ga., estimated damage in the Morehead City-Beaufort area at $900,000. That included smashed windows, fallen utility lines, fallen trees, overturned mobile homes and other property destruction. Late-night flood damage was not included.

The storm roared in from the Atlantic and hit near Morehead City at midday Thursday, then settled in the area during the night.

The small town of Bellhaven was isolated by rising waters of the Pungo River. Streets were covered by water two to three feet deep.

Other communities with water in streets, trees down, power interrupted and activities at a standstill were Bath, Beaufort, Atlantic Beach and Swan Quarter.

Red Cross shelters were set up in six coastal counties and by late Thursday night were occupied by 1,931 persons.

Two National Guard trucks were sent to Bath and Bellhaven during the night to rescue persons stranded by flooding.

National Guardsmen also were alerted for possible duty today by Gov. Bob Scott, who spent all Thursday in the storm area.

The Highway Patrol reported that Charles Clifford Price, 29, of Washington, N.C., was killed when his car collided with an oil tanker truck. Troopers said a gust of wind may have caused the accident.

Contracts Have Expired for Miners

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators for a new contract covering 80,000 soft-coal miners planned to continue talks today but appeared resigned to widespread strikes in more than 20 coal-producing states.

"We hope ... that the mines will continue to operate," a spokesman for the industry said Thursday night when talks broke up for the night. The old contract expired at midnight.

Operators said the Nixon administration wage-price freeze and lack of knowledge about Phase 2 were making negotiations difficult.

Miners represented by the United Mine Workers union were staying off their jobs at sites in several states, with apparently more than 20,000 out when the contract expired.

In Jenkins, Ky., where the Beth-Elkhorn Corp. employs 1,000 men, a spokesman said: "We're not working—they didn't show up at midnight."

Some 1,750 men at U.S. Steel's Robena Mine in Uniontown, Pa., were out.

Coal miners traditionally have refused to work without a contract. The walkouts were taking place despite a union spokesman's statement early Friday that "no strike has been called."

The UMW has called its 125-man National Scale and Wage Policy Committee to a meeting in New York Monday, indicating no possibility of a contract settlement before then. The committee is empowered to approve any contract agreement.

Sources said, however, that this did not rule out the possibility of a contract-extension agreement between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

The association's spokesman said it was proposing an extension, but the union made no response to the proposal.

The union is seeking to boost the current top wage of $37 per day to $150, double the current 40-cent-per-ton royalty to the union's welfare and retirement fund and other contract improvements.

Food Value of Corn May Be Increased

OLIVIA, Minn. (AP) — A breakthrough which will increase the food value of corn has been announced by the Trojan Seed Company of Olivia.

R.J. Rauenhorst, president of Trojan, said the "double-mutant corn is a giant step" in alleviating hunger.

The new "high-lysine" corn increases the content of an essential amino acid and retains the high levels of two others, while it is superior in both nutritional value and test weight, the company said.

Company officials said the corn could be used as a high nutrition livestock feed or a means of improving the nutritional value of snacks and breakfast foods. The company said it is hopeful the seed would be for sale by 1973.

HOW TO ORGANIZE A BLOCK PARTY

Dear Helen:
Those block parties mentioned in HHU sound interesting. Please tell us more about how to organize one. —WANTING TO KNOW OUR NEIGHBORS
Dear WTKON:

Here's a letter that explains block parties, July 4th style:
Dear Helen:

T.W. and R.O. who yearn for old-fashioned block parties should move to San Antonio, Texas!

Last year we had our fifth annual Independence Day "block" parade and street dance. Of course we live on a very unusual street: no one sticks a nose in your business, but if you need help, everyone is there! We live on the best block, in the best town in the whole U.S.A.

How do we get a block party going? Everybody cooperates. We formally write to the City Traffic Engineer and request permission to have a street dance. He agrees to close off the street for the evening.

At 8 p.m. the children of the neighborhood march in a "dress-up" parade. They carry flags and sing patriotic songs belting July 4th. In the middle of the block, we have taped music on one side, and snacks, cheese, tamales, all manner of "pot-luck" food on the other. When the children arrive there, adults join in their songs. Then we eat, dance, play, talk—and you can be sure that no one here would dream of taking a vacation away from home on this holiday!

In our small way, we're reaffirming faith in our country—and having a wonderful time. —MRS. L.W.H., Lantana Dr., San Antonio, Tex.

NOTE FROM HELEN:

But block parties can be given ANY time of the year—for no other reason than to discover your neighbors are human too. They're kind of "grass-roots country club" without the whopping overhead. —H.

Dear Helen:
You've printed so many letters about couples who regret getting married and having children young that I thought I would write about a couple who doesn't regret it at all!

My husband and I were married when I was just 17 and he was 19, not only because I was pregnant, but because we wanted to. Well, our baby died at birth, and all the parents wanted us to get an annulment, which we would not do.

We moved away, and have been married for nine years now. We have two wonderful children, aged four and six, and we couldn't be happier. We've got each other and our kids! —COLETTE

Dear Helen:

Tell that person who got trapped into sending $10 to "earn money being a new products researcher" that she has lots of company. I complained to the U.S. Attorney for that district, and also to the U.S. Postal Service Inspector, and have learned since that this company is now in bankruptcy, after being investigated (and evidently found wanting). I got my money back, but doubt that others will be so lucky. As you said, Helen, ten bucks is a small price to pay if you've learned a good lesson—never trust a mail-order company that insists you pay out money to make money. —A.F.

Dear Readers:

That now-defunct company really got its ads around! I've been flooded with letters, all naming the same outfit (who shall be nameless) as the culprit. —H.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — "Allas Smith and Jones," ABC's mid-winter replacement that won a spot in this season's lineup, may not be art but it achieves its goal: an hour of light-hearted entertainment.

It is the saga of a couple of bank and train robbers of the jolly Old West who decide to go straight and win executive amnesty. Each week the reformed bad guys flirt dangerously with the temptation to revert to larceny.

The plot Thursday was typical. The two were deputized to escort two captured bank robbers to a distant town. En route they captured two other members of the outlaw gang when an escape attempt backfired. Then the lawman to whom they delivered the prisoners recognized Smith and Jones as men with prices on their heads so they, too, landed behind bars.

There follows the working out of a wild and complicated scheme that eventually put all the villains—including the sheriff—in jail and permitted our heroes to ride away to next week's adventure.

When the series started, its merry atmosphere and tone reminded one of the hit movie, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—Ben Murphy, one of the stars, has a strong facial resemblance to Paul Newman. Pete Duel is the other lead, an attractive actor who is at ease handling the wry dialogue.

The series also recalls "Maverick" a comedy Western of other years. James Garner obviously seeks to capture the same whimsical note of comedy in his new NBC "Nichols" also on Thursday nights. Garner was a sharp, interesting figure when he played one of the poker-playing Maverick brothers. His Nichols, however, is a vague figure that seems to change from show to show.

TOM NORVELL

The Hope Church of Christ will have a visiting preacher Sunday morning, October 3.

Mr. Thomas Norvell, who is a student at Arkansas State University, will be the speaker. The sermon subject will be, "A Life Worth Living".

Several of the students at ASU plan to make the trip with Tom from Jonesboro.

Tom is a Hope boy and writes, "This will be a dream that I have wanted to come true ever since I first thought about preaching at all".

The service is at 10:50 a.m. on October 3. Tom's many friends are invited to hear him.

McClarkin Plans to Seek State Office

By RANDY HEDRICK

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — He may have approached a red light on his road to a political career in Arkansas, but Texarkana lawyer Hayes McClarkin feels all bridges on the path are still intact.

McClarkin also said in a recent interview that he plans to seek political office again in the coming years.

McClarkin who served 10 years as a representative from Miller County and served as Speaker of the House in 1969, approached the red light in his career when he was defeated in his bid for the 1970 Democratic nomination for governor.

"I really do not know what my political future is at this time and I may not have a future, but I do want to continue in public service in Texarkana, if it is only as an interested citizen," he said.

McClarkin said he had been approached by political friends and had been asked to either seek the congressional seat now held by Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., or the state senate seat now held by Sen. Bob Douglas of Texarkana.

"At this time I would say I would stay on the sidelines, but I will take an active part in other candidates' campaigns, if I feel they will be beneficial to the state," he said.

He said he was interested in state politics, but said he did not see how he could better himself by again seeking a House seat.

"I would only be returning to the rat race I left," he said.

McClarkin said he always reserves the right to change his mind about the upcoming elections.

"Politics and public service are in my blood and somewhere in my future I will enter the political area again, but at this time I would be fooling myself and my friends by looking at any particular office," he said.

His office bears the reminders of his past political service. Hanging framed on the wall is the gavel he used while serving as speaker of the House and directly under it is a license plate bearing "Speaker of the House, Arkansas No. 1."

Surrounded by his mementoes and remembrances of past service, he said, "I don't intend to become a political hack, a person who runs for office just for the sake of running."

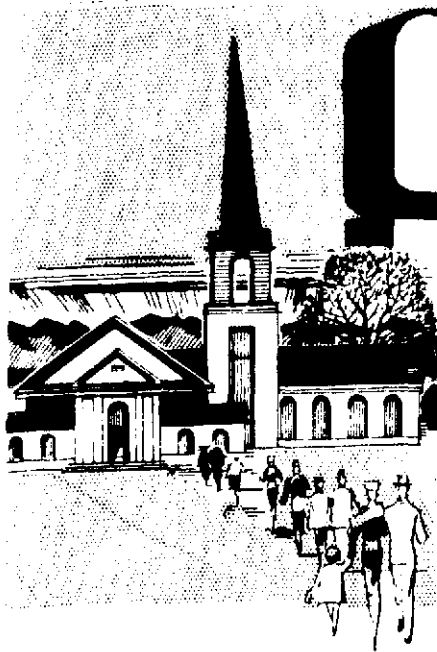

McClarkin, who will be 40 soon, praised Gov. Dale Bumpers and said, "He has done an admirable job and I am amazed at some of the things he has accomplished."

Labor May Oppose Rep. Poff

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says that Rep. Richard Poff, R-Va., is a racist and has indicated the labor organization might oppose a nomination of Poff to the U.S. Supreme Court.

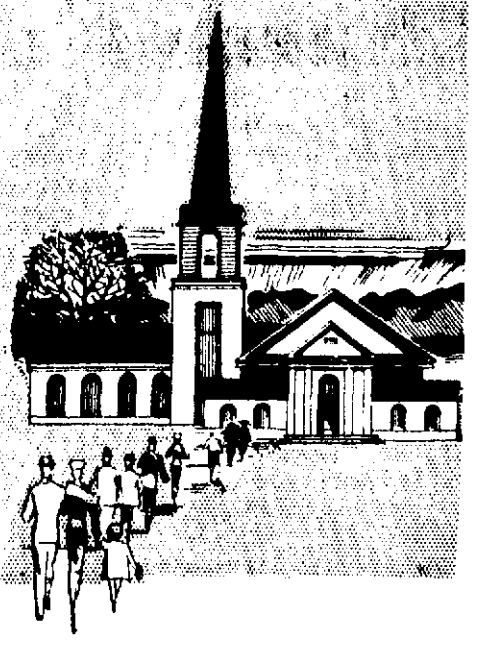

"I understand Mr. Poff is a very nice gentleman, but on his record he's a racist," Meany said Wednesday while at the taping of a television interview for the David Frost program for broadcast Oct. 7.

Poff has been mentioned as a possible choice of President Nixon for one of two vacant seats on the high court.

In 6 days

In six days God created the earth and everything on it and gave man dominion over it. God was the Creator; Man was to be the Caretaker.

But over the years, Man has slowly destroyed his domain: its water, air and soil; its plant and animal life; and even his fellowman. Unless such destruction in the guise of progress is stopped, future generations may never see a panorama that goes on forever.

They may never watch a bird in flight or hear it sing, catch a fish, smell a flower, walk barefoot or witness the colors of nature.

Man has the ability to both preserve and destroy. The decision is up to you. Which will you do?

By Oswald & James Jacoby
We aren't concerned with the merits of today's bidding, but the final contract of six diamonds looks fairly reasonable at first glance.

South rose with dummy's ace of clubs and led a low diamond to his ace. There was no reason to take a first round finesse. West showed out of diamonds and South paused.

Then he led king and another diamond. East won and returned a spade to dummy's ace. South got back to his hand by ruffing a spade and ran off the rest of his trumps. The last trump squeezed West in hearts and clubs and South made his slam.

"Horseshoes!" yelled East. "You played for a 5-1 club break and gave up the chance to get a quick discard on a good heart."

South had done nothing of the kind. Instead he had made an excellent play and had been properly rewarded.

East was marked with six spades for his vulnerable jump overcall. He had also shown up with four diamonds and one club. There was no way he could also hold three hearts, so there was no way to make the hand by an immediate attack in the heart suit. South had given himself a chance and it materialized.

Kissinger Denies POW Statement

By DON MCLEOD

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wife of an American prisoner of war says White House adviser Henry Kissinger told her and others that President Nixon's trip to Communist China could speed up a negotiated end to the Vietnam war.

Kissinger denied the statement, attributed to him by Barbara Mullen, of Oakland, Calif. wife of a Marine pilot missing in action in Laos.

Mrs. Mullen said this and other statements intimating a break in the deadlocked negotiations were made by Kissinger in meetings—most recently on Aug. 26 in San Clemente, Calif.—with relatives of Americans who are prisoners of war or missing in action.

"He said the North Vietnamese are not too happy about" Nixon's projected trip to mainland China, Mrs. Mullen said in an interview. "So they will feel they should begin to negotiate more seriously with us now."

Mrs. Mullen said Kissinger referred to a thaw in U.S.-Soviet relations as another pressure on Hanoi to negotiate.

"I didn't say it. It isn't true. And it is not our policy," Kissinger said when asked about the reports.

Attorney Offers

Home to Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — A retired Washington attorney and former assistant general counsel to the Federal Reserve Board has offered his $300,000 home as a permanent residence for the U.S. chief justice.

G. Howland Chase said Wednesday his decision had nothing to do with any particular chief justice, but because, "It was a dream I had."

By Oswald & James Jacoby
We aren't concerned with the merits of today's bidding, but the final contract of six diamonds looks fairly reasonable at first glance.

South rose with dummy's ace of clubs and led a low diamond to his ace. There was no reason to take a first round finesse. West showed out of diamonds and South paused.

Then he led king and another diamond. East won and returned a spade to dummy's ace. South got back to his hand by ruffing a spade and ran off the rest of his trumps. The last trump squeezed West in hearts and clubs and South made his slam.

"Horseshoes!" yelled East. "You played for a 5-1 club break and gave up the chance to get a quick discard on a good heart."

South had done nothing of the kind. Instead he had made an excellent play and had been properly rewarded.

Send $1 for JACOBY MODERN book to: "Win at Bridge," c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

East was marked with six spades for his vulnerable jump overcall. He had also shown up with four diamonds and one club. There was no way he could also hold three hearts, so there was no way to make the hand by an immediate attack in the heart suit. South had given himself a chance and it materialized.

You do bid two spades and your partner raises you to three. What do you do now?

Kissinger Denies POW Statement

By DON MCLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wife of an American prisoner of war says White House adviser Henry Kissinger told her and others that President Nixon's trip to Communist China could speed up a negotiated end to the Vietnam war.

Kissinger denied the statement, attributed to him by Barbara Mullen, of Oakland, Calif. wife of a Marine pilot missing in action in Laos.

Senators Forfeit the Final Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators, their merry mourners turning a funeral into a fiasco, have bowed out of baseball with one of the rarest feats in the team's undistinguished history—a last-inning loss by forfeit.

The Texas-bound team, a fixture in the American League's basement for many of its 71 years, seemed headed for certain victory in the Capital final Thursday night.

The Senators held not only a 7-5 lead, but the New York Yankees had no one on base and only a single out remaining.

For the long-suffering Senators' fans, it was just too much. By the hundreds they poured out of the stands, roaming the outfield, jamming the bases and running off with the pitcher's rubber. For the first time since 1954, a major league baseball game ended in forfeit.

"We won the game even though they took it away by the rules," said catcher Paul Casanova.

"I never expected anything like that, said pitching coach Sid Hudson, a Senator for more than two decades. "What a way to end a ball club, huh?"

"That was just the fans' way of expressing themselves over what they thought was a wrong deal," said reserve Tom McCraw. "I'm not saying it was a good way, but, I guess they thought it was the only way."

Almost 15,000 fans were on hand to see the Senators who lost 96 games with a team batting average of .230 slip into history alongside storied losers like the St. Louis Browns. The fans came not so much to mourn as to heckle owner Robert Short, who engineered the transfer of the franchise to Dallas-Fort Worth.

Short was not seen at the stadium, but fans carried an effigy of him through the stands. Signs ridiculing short blossomed from virtually every corner of Kennedy Stadium. At least one of the signs was obscene.

Popular slugger Frank Howard, who has not been noticeably happy about the prospect of playing in Texas next season, gave the fans something to remember him by with a soundly laced line-drive home run in the sixth—his 26th of the season.

The Senators' forfeit was the first in major league baseball since July 18, 1954, when delaying tactics by St. Louis manager Eddie Stanky led umpires to give the Philadelphia Phillies a sweep of a doubleheader with the Cardinals.

in Orlando, Hollywood and St. Petersburg were scheduled Thursday on the $18,000-a-stop winter tour of the International Association of Professional Golfers.

Referee Bert Gilliam voted for Daniels 117-112 and judge Spider Bynum scored it for Daniels 117-114, while judge Buddy Scott called it a 115-115 draw.

Hurricanes Get Nod Over Baylor

By HUBERT MIZELL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Hurricanes haven't won two consecutive football games since 1968. They'll try to break the string tonight as 10-point favorites over the Baylor Bears.

"That's one tradition I want to see die," said Miami Coach Fran Curci, a former Hurricane quarterback. "Before you string together a few victories, you've got to learn to win two straight."

Kickoff for the intersectional game is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. (EDT) at the Orange Bowl.

Miami surprised Wake Forest 29-10 last week to square its record at 1-1, thanks to the running talents of Chuck Foreman and Tom Sullivan.

Sullivan has pounded for 209 yards in two games while Foreman has gained 207.

Baylor upset Indiana 10-0 last week and is also 1-1. The Bears from the Southwest Conference made most of their points on a dazzling 94-yard kickoff return by speedy Godfrey White.

Defensive back Roger Goree keys the Baylor defense that stymied the Hoosiers, after being blasted by Kansas 22-0 in its opener.

Tailback Matthew Williams is the top Baylor ground threat. He had his finest game ever against Indiana, gaining 112 yards on 18 carries.

In tonight's other major college contest, Brigham Young will host New Mexico in a Western Athletic Conference battle. BYU is 2-1 on the season and 1-0 in the WAC, while New Mexico, 1-1, will be playing its first conference game.

All of the nation's Top Twenty, headed by Nebraska, Michigan, Texas and Notre Dame, will be in action on Saturday, with the top 11 playing on their home fields.

The first ranked Cornhuskers, easy winners over Oregon, Minnesota and Arizona in their first three outings, will try to make it four in a row when they host Utah State, which is also 3-0.

No. 2 Michigan coming off its impressive 38-0 whipping of UCLA, will be heavily favored to make its record 4-0 against Navy, 1-2, while third-ranked Texas, 2-0, is also expected to handle Oregon, 1-2.

Notre Dame, 2-0 which dropped to fourth in the rankings following its 8-7 squeaker over Purdue last week, must play away-tough Michigan State, 2-1. Auburn, 2-0 and ranked fifth after edging tough Tennessee last week, goes against Kentucky, 1-2.

Sixth-ranked Colorado, 3-0 after its impressive 20-14 whipping of Ohio State—at Columbus, Ohio, no less—will get no rest. The Buffaloes must face Kansas State, 2-1, in their Big Eight Conference opener.

Bear Bryant's Alabama, 3-0 and ranked seventh, will trot out its Wishbone-T offense led by Terry Davis and Johnny Musso against Mississippi, also 3-0, in a Southeastern Conference clash.

No. 8 Oklahoma, 3-0, will be tested by No. 17, Southern California, in a game which features two of the nation's top quarterbacks, Jack Mildren of the Sooners and Jimmy Jones of the Trojans.

Ninth-rated Penn State, 2-0, will host the Air Force Academy, also 2-0, while 10th ranked Stanford, 3-0, is to face 19th ranked Duke, also 3-0, in a pair of inter-secional rivalries.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills have been introduced in the House and Senate to bring both baseball and football under the control of antitrust regulations.

Top lawmakers on both sides of Congress introduced the bills, joining in a statement that classed team owners as "czars" who administer a serfdom by way of restricting players' rights.

Rep Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who heads the House Judiciary Committee, joined Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., in the joint actions.

After Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., introduced a bill that would place baseball only under the antitrust laws

Razorbacks Face TCU Saturday

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas will have to defense TCU quarterback Steve

Judy for the last time Saturday.

Thank goodness, says

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles.

"He's had two great games against us," Broyles said. "I've never been able to rest easy

when he's in the ball game."

Arkansas and TCU meet here

Saturday in the Southwest Conference opener for both teams.

In 1969, Judy drove Arkansas

batty. He completed 20 of 38 passes for 245 yards and scrambled for 56 additional yards. TCU, hampered by three fumbles, succumbed 24-6 after

Bill Montgomery hooked up with Chuck Dicus on a long scoring pass on a third down and short yardage situation.

In 1970, Judy completed 21 of 44 passes for 260 yards and both TCU touchdowns in a 49-

14 loss.

"He had an outstanding game as a sophomore,"

Broyles said. "Last year, they were behind and that changed the complexion of the game."

"He's a fine quarterback,"

Broyles said. "He's got a quick arm, a good arm and a lot of confidence. He's also a good runner."

Judy completed nine passes in a 44-26 loss to Washington last week giving him 275 completions in 23 games, five completions more than Sammy

Baugh accumulated during his career at TCU. Judy, a 6-foot,

187-pounder, has passed for

3,200 yards — 184 short of Baugh's record.

"The records don't mean that much," says Judy. "If we can win without passing, that's good."

TCU has not beaten Arkansas

since 1958. Broyles' first year at Arkansas.

Neither Broyles nor Jim Pittman, TCU's new head coach, think much about the streak.

"It's a new team every year," said Broyles.

"I don't care what's happened in the past," Pittman said. "I'm trying to make something happen now."

Arkansas will be without Jon

Richardson, its leading rusher, against the Horned Frogs.

Richardson, who gained 325 yards in the first three games, injured a bone in his foot in the second quarter last week and will be sidelined for a couple of weeks.

Dicky Morton, a sophomore who is averaging 6.3 yards a carry, will start in Richardson's place. He'll be backed by Mike Saint, a senior.

After Richardson departed

last week, Arkansas had difficulty moving the ball and Tulsa rallied for three fourth-quarter touchdowns and a 21-20 victory.

Broyles is not sure how the Razorbacks will react to the upset.

"We have outplayed our opponent in approximately 11 quarters and got outplayed in</
